THE HEADMASTER-MR. J. K. McPHEE

sion to the buildings that comprise our school.

There are few things that we can do in life that give quite as much satisfaction as helping young people, who are the future, and I would like Mr. Parker to know the depth of our appreciation for providing us with a conducive working environment that is going to be enjoyed by successive generations of students and staff.

The focal point of any school is, of course, the students and it is on their growth that the emphasis must always be placed. I trust that these pages will adequately demonstrate that the work of the school goes on unabated, and that our young people continue to be prepared in mind, body and spirit to meet the many challenges that modern life holds for them.

FROM THE HEADMASTER

The theme of this Year Book is 'Growth' which is entirely appropriate as the school has undoubtedly seen a period of expansion and change over the past two years unparalleled in its history.

Those of you who attended our 'Open House' towards the close of the Easter Term will have witnessed the major changes to our physical plant. The changes to Cavendish were, of course, completed last year and the major thrust of this year's construction has been at the main campus. The alterations and additions to 'Woodlands' are indeed impressive. This very old building, the original house on the site, now has an interior the graciousness of which matches its exterior, whilst the additions to the south of the building are equally splendid and complement the main structure.

Many people have contributed to the work in their various ways and my thanks go to all of them. But above all, I would like to extend my thanks and those of the Trustees to one person who has worked tirelessly on our behalf and that is Mr. Geoffrey Parker, an Old Boy and current parent, who not only designed the alterations and additions but also supervised their implementation, ensuring that they were carried out with maximum speed and minimum disruption. The changes are not only imaginative in concept but also eminently practical from the educational standpoint and have given a greater sense of unity and cohe-

PREP. VISITORS

SATURDAY SOCCER-Trevor Boyce

As with last year, Cavendish were very fortunate in obtaining the use of the Senior School field. With about 90 boys participating, the "reduced" Cavendish field would simply not be adequate. The season started off in the normal fashion with a few "ones" taking quickly to the game and a few more taking equally quickly to the sandpit!

However, by Christmas, it was all pretty serious and there were probably more keen children this year than for many years previously. Successful home and away matches were held against Port Royal, which gave about thirty-five children their first taste of "inter-school sport."

The highlight of the season, without doubt, was the eight team tournament held at Saltus on March 13th. Two teams from P.H.C. Football Club, two from Port Royal, two from Saltus and one each from Devonshire Colts and B.A.A. Football Clubs, all combined into a mini tournament. Despite the very professional turnout of the teams from the football clubs the Saltus lads swept all before them defeating the P.H.C. 'A' team 1-0 in the final. Much credit must go to David Connolly who not only did a fantastic job organizing the team but also spent many, many Saturdays helping the boys acquire a skill level that was the envy of many onlookers.

Apart from David, my sincere thanks to the many fathers who turn out week after week. Without them the programme simply could not run. Maybe next year a few girls and perhaps even some mothers!

JUNIOR SCHOOL OPEN DAY: MARCH 25TH 1993

UP, UP AND AWAY!
EASTER
COMPETITION 1993

Saltus is now a co-educational school with students in three departments ranging in age from 4 to 19. This photo shows a student from every class in the school and is meant to symbolize the theme of growing. The shot is enhanced by plants grown in the school by the students and, in the background, part of the new building project that has seen the school grow quite dramatically over the past two years.

GET READY FOR THIS

FASHION '93

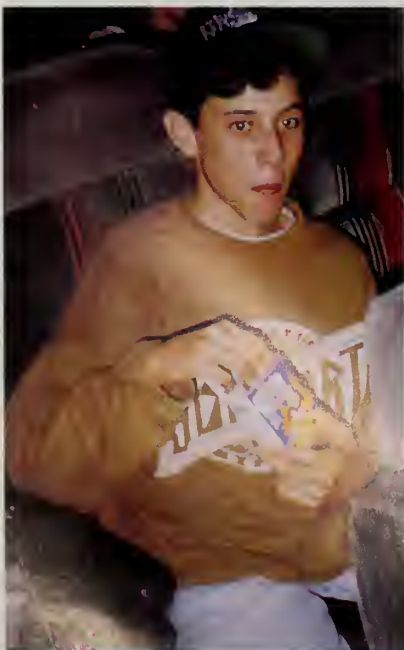

From November 11th until November 19, 23 members of this year's Post-Graduate Year participated in the first annual Saltus Canadian College Tour.

In nine days we visited twelve colleges in Nova Scotia, Quebec and Ontario. The purpose of the trip was for students to gain first hand knowledge and information from these colleges to help them to decide on their final college choices.

The visits entailed presentations and questions and answer sessions hosted by admissions officers, campus tours, visits to halls of residence and meetings with former Saltus students currently studying in Canada.

While it was an exhausting experience for all concerned, everyone voted it an overwhelming success.

Plans are already underway for the 1993 visit.

PUPPETS

Moathy Burland, Simon Haworth, Malcolm Martin

Ricardo Brums, Brady Dearden, Adam Connolly

On Thursday afternoons, in January and February, we made puppets. Mrs. Dearden and Mrs. Haworth came to school to help us. We had fun moulding the heads out of sand and cornstarch. It took us a few weeks to sew the puppets together. Then we made clothes and dressed the puppets as if they were on the Sea Venture in 1609. We put on a puppet show for the school and our Mums and Dads.

from space.

I went to Cable and Wireless and saw a satellite dish. Mr. Swan said messages are invisible. He said it takes a quarter of a second to reach the dish.

Lucy Hollis

If a tornado came the dish would have to be strapped down with wires.

Alexander Conyers

Mr. Swan told us that the first satellite dish was made in Japan. It was taken apart, put on a plane, and brought to Bermuda to be built up again.

Chloe Kempe

Mr. Simons told us that the satellite dish would have to be facing up so the strong wind would go right down into the center of it, and would not blow it down.

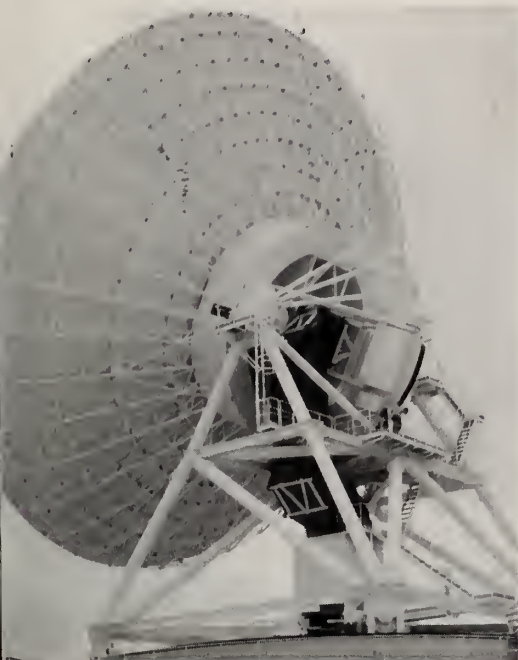

Melissa Santucci

If you had a telescope you would see the satellite in space.

Stephen Law

Mr. Swan said that the smaller dish brings in television messages.

FAREWELL . . .

John Coakley

John Coakley joined Saltus Junior School in September, 1987. Appointed as a J6 class teacher and Head of English, Mr. Coakley quickly established himself as a hard-working, popular member of staff. An enthusiastic sportsman, he soon got thoroughly involved in Junior School House rivalry and, as Darrell leader, rapidly eclipsed the empire of Mr. Beasley's Watlington! After three years, Mr. Coakley was asked to assume the leadership of the Junior School, at a time of great change for the school. The move to co-education, three stream entry, and the ambitious building programme have taken place smoothly under Mr. Coakley's guidance and care. More importantly he has led the Junior School with kindness and good humour and the children have responded well to his enthusiastic and energetic manner and determination to help all realize their very best.

John Coakley leaves Saltus to become the Master of Ryde Junior School on the Isle of Wight. We hope that he enjoys his golf and his running and that he will come back and visit us often. Thank you, John, and Good Luck in all your future endeavours.

WELCOME . . .

Christine A. De Silva

Mrs. Christine De Silva has taught for more than twenty-five years in the local education system. Her teacher training took place at Dudley College of Education in the United Kingdom.

Her initial appointment upon her arrival in 1966 was to the former Ord Road School, now Paget Primary School. Subsequently she taught at Prospect Primary, East End Primary and St. George's Prep School, before moving in 1987 to Port Royal Primary School as Deputy Principal and then on to be a mentor teacher, which is the post she held until earlier this year.

Since her arrival in Bermuda, Mrs. De Silva has obtained the B.A. (with distinction) from Queen's University, Kingston, Ontario, Canada and the M.A. from Webster University, St. Louis, Missouri.

Married to Stephen De Silva, Christine is the mother of Fiona, James and Ian, Keith and Kevin. She is sure the experience of becoming the Head of the Junior School at Saltus Grammar School will be both exciting and fulfilling and she looks forward to the challenge.

VIKINGS

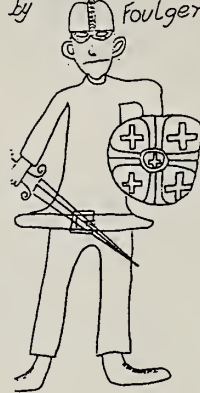

VIKING ATTACKS.

Right now it is the year eight hundred and forty-nine. When I was a young man in the year seven hundred and ninety-nine my village was attacked by some Vikings. The Vikings wore metal helmets, long cloaks, and long trousers. The Vikings weapons were axes, swords and spears. Their shields were made out of wood and were banded in metal. The Vikings said that there is worse to come. I told every body to build a high wall quickly because the Vikings will be back. When the Vikings came back they were surprised to see a big wall around the village. They tried to knock the wall down with their axes, swords and spears. They kept trying but never succeeded. They missed me but killed my best friend Donny. We pushed out one block and I got stabbed. I took out a cross and stabbed the Viking. The other Vikings got mad and got their Berzerkers to knock the wall down. The Berzerkers knocked that wall down but were surprised to see another wall. While they were knocking down the wall I was telling the villagers to get ready for battle. When the villagers got all their weapons ready for battle the Berzerkers just got through the wall. Two Berzerkers were after me with spears. They threw their spears but I ducked. I was glad I ducked because the spears went right over my head. The Berzerkers killed themselves. I gave the spears to the villagers. When they saw that two Berzerkers were dead they ran for their lives.

Hi! My name is Ola. I trade for a living, but sometimes I have to fight when raiders from Sweden come to my village. My village in Denmark is very peaceful. Some people got killed in our last war with Norway. I almost died in a fight with the leader of Norway, but they retreated and me and my family are okay.

Peter Kyl

A Viking Raid.

One day my father said, "Would you like to go on a raid?" I said, "Yes." So tomorrow I am going on my first raid. I have got clothes, weapons, food, water and two blankets. I'm ready! "The voyage has begun," said my father. We trimmed the sail! Four days passed. On the fifth day we saw land. We beached and the people ran.

A Viking Raid.

On my first voyage there was a storm and I got a little sea sick. We took about 40 swords, 10 spears and 3 axes. My job is to row. I got a lot of blisters. Finally we arrived. The raid was the most exciting thing I have ever done. I got 2 gold plates, a box of gold and silver.

Brian Steinho

A Viking Raid.

Hello my name is Thorkle. My father's name is Rollo. My father is the chief. We were going to go on my first raiding trip. I had to do nearly all the rowing. My father had to do the steering. We have to look out, especially when most of us are asleep. The raiding was the exciting part. My father killed a man and I felt sick when the guy got killed. Soon it was time to go home to Norway.

Katie Shaw

My name is Frea. I live in Canada. I work on lots of things. I work very hard. I take care of the animals, the children and cook all the food. I make sure the clothing is woven and I make all the food.

Ashley Bea

Once upon a time there lived some Vikings. "Hey guys, who wants to go on a raid?" "Me!" "Next week at mid night." Two weeks later: Strock! Strock! Strock! put up the sails. You get the food. You get the beer. Take down the sails. There's a storm coming. Ahh! Help! Two hours later: The storm is over. "Where are we? We're in the middle of the ocean silly. Just put up the sails. Land ho! Check out those fish! Take down the sails. Shh! Heave ho! Heave ho! You, you, you and you pull in the boat. Get your stuff we're going to make a camp and get some sleep."

One hour later: "Get up, get up! We're going in to attack a monastery. Shh! You go look out. Let's go attack! Got you! Ahh."

David Schoenberg

The Year of the Lord 802

Dear Sister Anne,

Last week fifty Vikings attacked, everyone ran side the monastery. I went inside the secret holy passage, that went to the shrine, and prayed to God.
The Vikings burnt down the village. They captured me. They went to Germany, and I was traded for five gold coins. Those Vikings went to Arabia and I was traded for five horses. Next I went to Egypt. We arrived a couple of minutes ago, right now I can see men with knives. This will probably be the last letter.
I hope you like your life. Bless everyone at church for me. Please thank the kind dove.

Life at Sea

My name is Thor, I'm going on a raid. I have all my weapons and armour in a chest that is my seat. I've said good bye to my family. I'm rowing today. We are far enough from land now. The oars are pulled up and the single mast is hauled into place, and the sail raised.
It's my turn to cook. I've had my share. I go to sleep.
The other half of the crew will do the work. At midnight I am woken up. I navigate using the stars.
Now I steer the boat with a rod connected to a rudder.

Thor Visits The Land of the Giants

One day a man name Thor went to Utgard to show the king giant how strong he was. He had to drink a glass of water in one go but he did not do it. Then he had to pick up a cat but he only got one paw off the ground. Then he had to beat the king's foster mother and he lost. But later the king said, "I played a trick on you. When you were drinking the water I made the other side of the horn touch the Queen. Also, when you picked up the cat it was the world, and when you wrestled with the foster mother it was an old age foster mother." Thor swung a string and a rock and made thunder.

Food

At a feast the Viking children ate cabbage, peas, veal stew, beef, leg of deer, bowls full of roasted nuts.
They must be stuffed after a feast.

A Miracle

Hello, I am John 2nd. I am a monk. I am going to tell you a story about a Viking raid. It was the year of our Lord 807, the whole of the monastery was busy. It was my turn to be on lookout duty. I was just about to get the next person on lookout duty when I heard someone say, "Go get him men." I turned around and saw an army of Vikings. I called out, "Vikings, Vikings!" All the brothers began praying. For some strange reason the Viking began asking if they could be monks. We all agreed. We all got back to our chores. When I was working I mumbled to myself, thank you Lord. At the end of the day we had a feast.
We said a special prayer and then went to bed

James Brookes

A Viking Raid

The voyage took three days to get there. I got sick. I rowed so hard I got blisters. Finally we were there. We burned the houses, we killed people and took silver, gold, ornaments and stuff we could use. I saw 4 or 5 people dead. We took all their crops and cows. We took 5 or 6 slaves. I felt pretty sick seeing all those dead people.

Jennah Robinson

The Vikings had to be good sailors. They packed food, chain mail, weapons, clothes and helmets. When they are away from land they pull in oars and put up the sail. They can tell where they are and what the time is by looking at the stars and the sun. They had no seats so they sat on chests. In the chests there were their own belongings.

MUSIC I

The musical highlight of the Christmas term was our production of the show 'Alice in Wonderland.' A large choir enjoyed learning some difficult music; they worked with a ten piece band, they performed to a high standard.

In February we held our annual House Choral Competition. All houses sang well and Watlington were just beaten by Butterfield Juniors, who sang with great energy and conviction.

There is an ever increasing number of instrumentalists in the school, many of whom have been successful in Associated Board practical and theory exams this year. Many ensemble rehearsals take place every week - brass woodwind and string and some of our more advanced players attend the Senior School Band and String Orchestra. There are regular performances by soloists and groups in Assembly.

The Summer term has also been a busy one. During the first few weeks, many children rehearsed for our Summer concert 'All the Fun of the Fair.' Soloists and ensembles gave a varied and creditable performance in the first half, and then the J4 and J5 year groups joined forces to perform their musical show, "The Circus." Their liveliness and enthusiastic singing, as well as their colourful costumes were much enjoyed by large audiences on both nights.

As well as giving concerts and performances, some fifty Junior School children benefitted from the unique opportunity of attending a special childrens concert of Saint-Saens 'Carnival of the Animals' at the Bermuda Aquarium. They saw and heard all the instruments live, and were also shown an exhibition of paintings.

Altogether, it has been a happy and successful year and my sincere thanks go to the many people who contribute to the running of our music programme.

MUSIC II

What music means to me. Music is life to me. I think being a dancer, you could not live without music. It's an art and a treasure.

Michael Collins - J4A

Music means a lot to me because I enjoy learning about new composers and also playing music. I enjoy playing my violin and composing.

David Boyce — J4A

"The best thing about the concert was when we were asked to do a lion roar, and when we saw the lady doing the painting of the owl."

Colin Brown — J6G

Irish Harp.

"Oh, hello, I'm a violin and I play the tune. After the Overture, the other strings and I go screeching off. I feel very sorry for the tubas and the kettle drums because I bet they get fed up with playing the same thing over and over again: "Oom pah, oom pah - boom, boom!"

Well, let me tell you my story. I want to be a harp because they play a rich, velvety tune. I have to be a violin but I'm sick of having to screech off all the time. I'm going to speak to the Maestro about this!"

A week later: "My dream came true - I am a harp! I can't believe it. I'm actually a harp. I'm so happy! Fifteen minutes later: "Let's see if I can play - eek, screech, eek . . . I'll need some practice! Update: "A harp has 47 strings and 7 pedals for loosening and tightening the strings."

Soon I found myself playing a beautiful funeral tune.

J6 UNDERSEA EXPEDITIONS

These are excerpts and illustrations from work produced by J6 students following their trip to the Bermuda Biological Station on March 11th, when they, together with children from many other countries, were linked by Telepresence to Dr. Robert Ballard's Jason Project in the Sea of Cortez, off the California Coast. The project taught the students about the life and work of scientists, the incredible advances in modern communication technologies and stimulated their interest and imagination.

I was fascinated by the way they transmitted what we heard and saw. Before the show we learned how the signals came to Bermuda from the Sea of Cortez in Baja, California. First, underwater signals from Jason, were carried via fiber optics to Media and then up to the Laney Chouest, the research ship on the surface. There, on board, a satellite beamed the signal up to another satellite which then transmitted it back down to Atlanta, Georgia. It was then sent to Dallas, Texas, up to another satellite and received by Cable and Wireless in Devonshire. Due to the hills in Bailey's Bay, the microwave signals had to be routed through a small satellite in Pembroke, then finally fed to the Biological Station. This whole, complicated process took just 1 minute! This was the part I most enjoyed learning about.

Henry-Gordon Masters.

We were aboard the ship "Star Hercules" and 10 miles away from the outskirts of our search area. 1:00 p.m. 2:00 p.m. Finally, we had reached our destination.

Now it was 2:30 p.m. Everyone was up on deck, preparing Argo, a remote submersible that hopefully would find the Titanic. Finally Argo was ready. Over she went. I was in the "Jason Project" control center, with Dr. Ballard, controlling Argo.

We had been controlling Argo for over an hour, when suddenly, a massive object appeared on the screen. Because Argo was approximately 2 ¼ miles below us, we could not figure out what the object was. Then we turned the headlights on extra bright. There we saw the words S.S. Titanic.

We couldn't believe it! We decided to look inside, and there we saw an old bathtub, a chandelier, which looked beautiful when Argo's light shone on it. Thank goodness this was all on video tape. Dr. Ballard said, "Now that we have discovered the "Titanic" we shall leave it in peace, for it is a grave to 1,522 people.

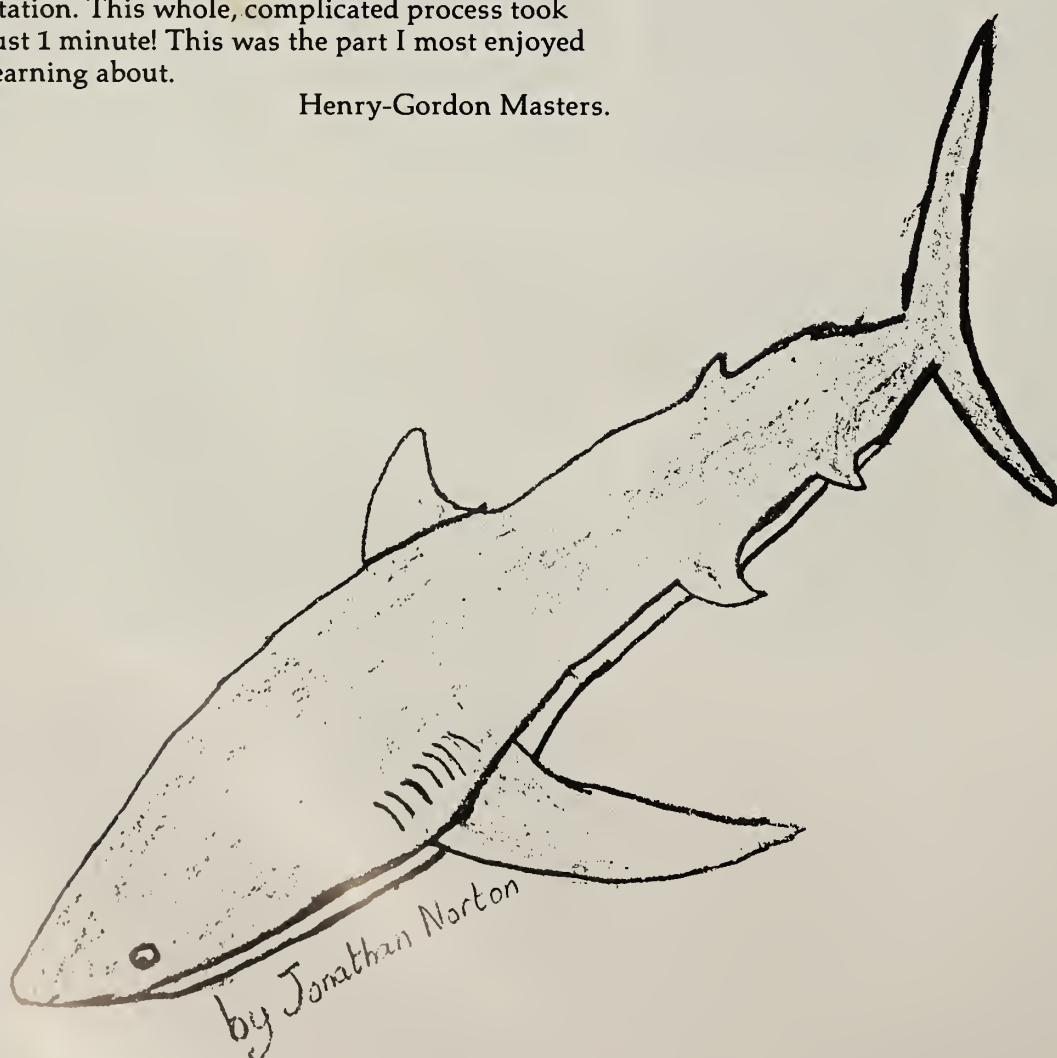

Adam Cooper

I was speechless when we walked into the Bermuda Biological Station for Research at 9:45 a.m. It was wonderful! There were three big screens, and they were showing some clips of the CNN Newsroom reports of the Jason Project. On the ceiling I noticed something that looked like a flip top trash can. I later found out it was a fake satellite.

Rory Manuel

It was very exciting to see things that were happening in the Sea of Cortez as they were happening, because we were linked to the expedition by satellite. After learning about fiber optics, satellite transmission and microwaves there was a countdown and the transmission started. Dr. Ballard talked to us and children in other countries about the Jason Project and after we were introduced to the Jason Team, we saw Jason actually being launched into the ocean off the side of the Laney Chouest. Students, through 'telepresence' were able to ask the scientists questions.

Kalilah Robinson

I loved the size of the T.V. screens. I wish I could have them instead of the T.V.s in my house! But how does someone get used to using all those buttons, knobs and controls below the screens?

Matthew Durrant.

I liked the Jason Project because I like exploring, new worlds and new life.

Graham Smith

Splash! We were finally in the water. It was a spectacular sight. The sea was a mass of fish. The sparkling blue and yellow of an angel fish swam by. The glorious show of colours on a parrotfish. It was a dream come true for me. I took about twenty snapshots on our way down. It was starting to get dark now and I could feel a sense of danger. Nearly all life had disappeared and we had our lights on. It was so quiet that I could hear and feel my heart beating. My aqualung seemed to be getting heavier as I stayed still, treading water. Suddenly the silence was broken by a surge of bubbles as Jacques sped forward followed by Eugenie. They pointed downwards. I looked down and froze in terror. Circling below me there was a twelve foot 'Carchardodon archarias,' or Great White. Even though its reputation had been made worse by films like 'Jaws' it was still a deadly creature. I was petrified! My mind told me to move but my body stayed paralyzed in fear. Ulp! Suddenly it charged at me. I had to do something so I threw my camera into the jaws of the mighty beast. It must have choked because it slowed down and started rolling over. I swam towards the surface and burst out of the water. I started swimming towards the boat.

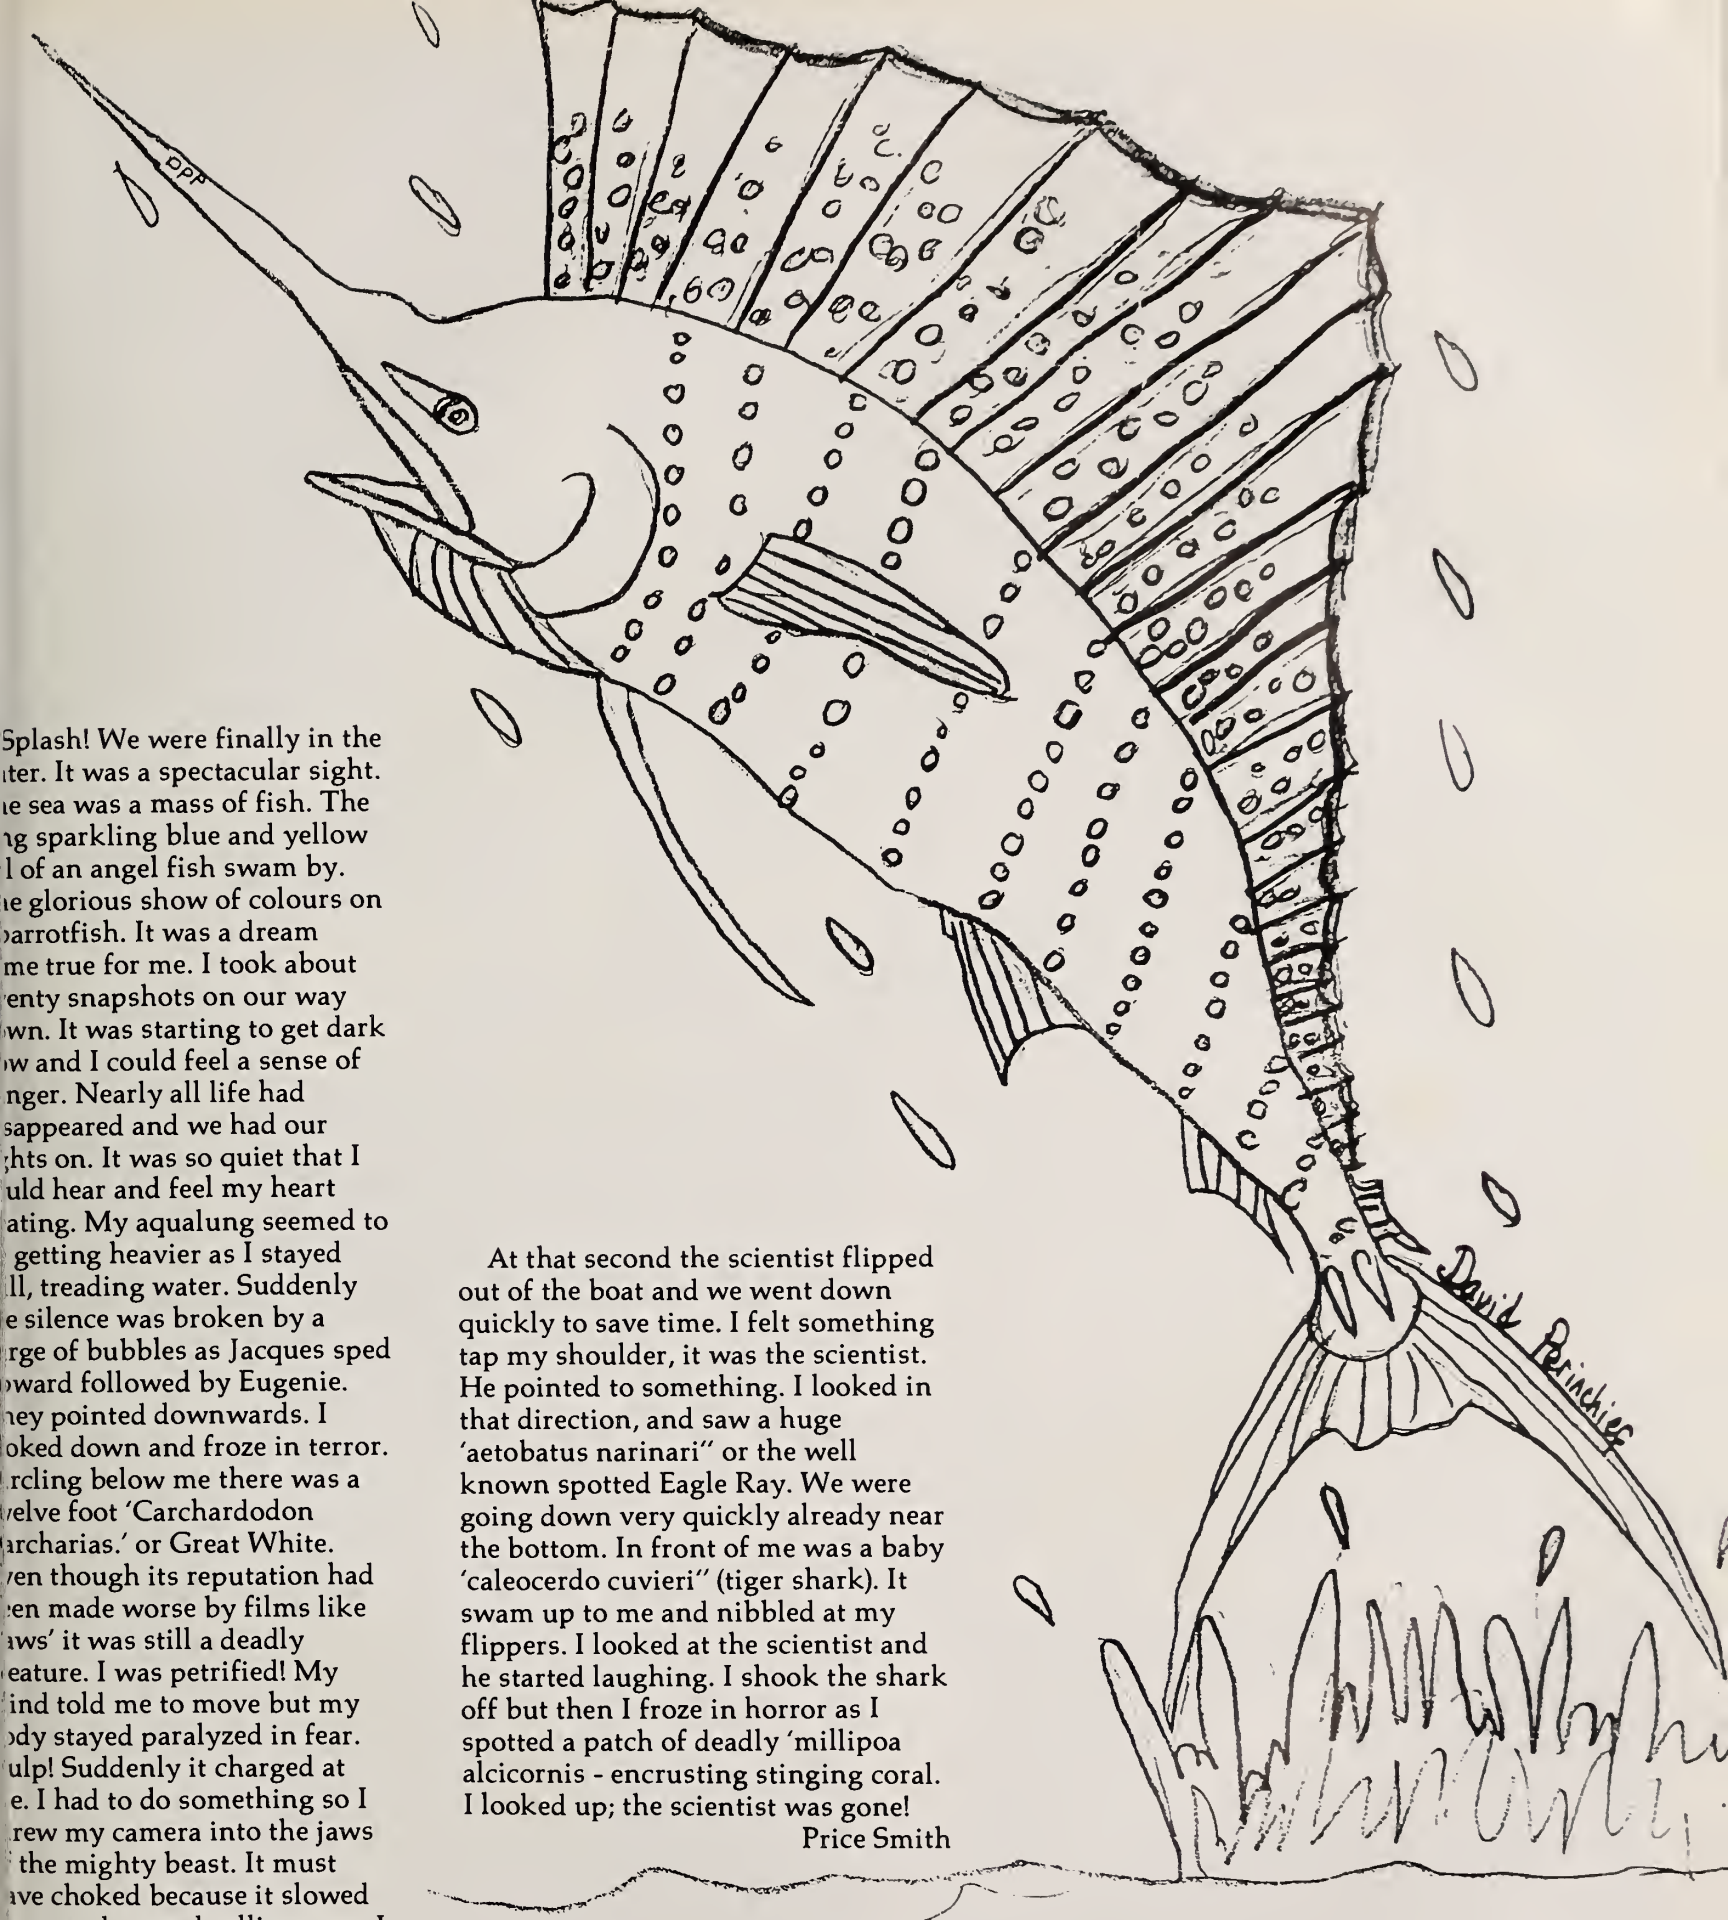

Ryan Marshall.

At that second the scientist flipped out of the boat and we went down quickly to save time. I felt something tap my shoulder, it was the scientist. He pointed to something. I looked in that direction, and saw a huge 'aetobatus narinari' or the well known spotted Eagle Ray. We were going down very quickly already near the bottom. In front of me was a baby 'caleocerdo cuvieri' (tiger shark). It swam up to me and nibbled at my flippers. I looked at the scientist and he started laughing. I shook the shark off but then I froze in horror as I spotted a patch of deadly 'millipoa alcornis' - encrusting stinging coral. I looked up; the scientist was gone!

Saltus

Saltus has grown a lot over the past 18 months. New buildings, staff and students have been added to the school. I like the changes and co-education. The noise is o.k. In my opinion the school doesn't need to improve - it's just great the way it is. Thank you.

Auralee Cassidy

Look out everyone here they come
The ones that look like mini moms

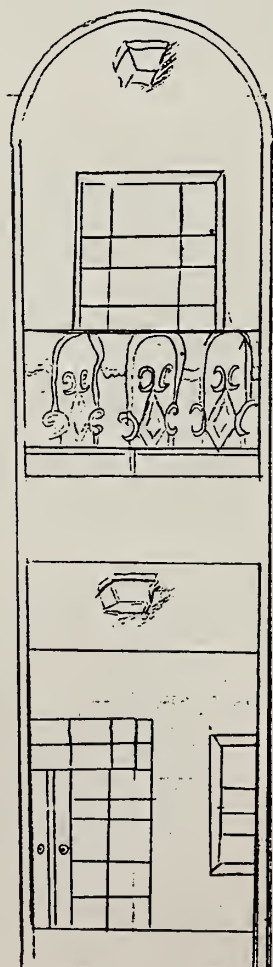

They call these strange humans girls
And they all have lots of curls

They wear a thing that's called a skirt
And don't have names like Fred or Burt

People say they're really bright
How come they never ever fight?

It doesn't matter what I think or say
These girls are definitely here to stay!

Adam Archibald

In the last 18 months Saltus has grown and improved in many different ways.

The main change undoubtedly was Saltus going Co-educational in September of 1991. I think that going Co-ed was a good idea because now the boys are challenged as the girls mature faster. Of course, with girls coming to Saltus, the school now has more students. So we have had to increase the number of classes. Originally we had 2 classes per year and now we have 3. With the increase in number of classes, they have had to employ more teachers, and I am happy to say that with more classes it means fewer people in each class.

I think all the teachers fit in very nicely at Saltus and that almost all the comments I have heard are good ones.

Daniel Barke

Changes at Saltus

When I was in J6W, the new J7 classes and other newly constructed parts of the school had not been built yet. Before the beginning of that school year, Mr. Coakley's office had been turned into the girls' bathroom and it was moved to the top of the steps near Mrs. Hall's old classroom. During that same year, some of the computers in the computer room were replaced with Macintosh LCII and eventually, all of the computers were replaced. I like these computers because you have a lot more options and games.

The J7's classes are nice. Mrs. Conway's room is what used to be Mrs. Hall's room, and Mrs. Hall's new classroom is underneath the steps leading to the music room. The J7's classroom is big with a lot of cupboards. There's a row of windows on the back side that you can see the field from. Outside the classroom there's a big hanging plant pot and below is some unfinished construction. The new parts that are unfinished will look good when they are done.

Nicola Francis

Saltus, Saltus,
What a neat name,
And ever since it's gotten girls;
All it does is gain.

It's got new buildings
And teachers too,
Spankings are rare,
And beatings are few.

It's plain to see,
That we're growing with ease,
We'll always remember
Saltus,
As the milk of our cheese!

Bobbi-Jo Marshall

School in the year 2093

I think that in the year 2093 the school will be a lot bigger. Cavendish will have more room, maybe even a small pool. The road and part of Cannon Nisbit's lawn will become a field with a soccer pitch. The dropoff road will be one way only, and there will be more equipment available. In the classrooms there will be air conditioning.

In the Junior School there will be an air conditioner in each classroom. The field will be bigger and the library will be computer based. To work the computer, you have to write the author and book's name; the computer goes to the right file and pulls out the book. For return you have to leave the book in the slot with the X. The music room has its own drum set and keyboard. Instead of pianos we will have a reoback which is a musicbox that folds out.

In the Senior School the Spanish and French rooms will be a lot bigger. The cafeteria is larger with more of a choice of food for lunch time. New additions are a golf course, video arcade, soda machines, more computers and an indoor pool. The school is solar programmed, cars wizz you to the room above walking galleries. To start the car you stick in your class and away you go. If you are in Cavendish you can take the light jet to use the facilities in the Senior School.

Ryan Davidge

Saltus in the Future

I think of Saltus as an exciting school. In the future I only have thoughts about it - I can't really see it clearly in my mind. I imagine that Saltus in the future will not be very strict, but more fun and a little easier. The Senior School exam will be abandoned and all the people that have attended Saltus since grade four just move up to the Senior School. I think the people in the sixth grade would have to take a test to see if they're smart enough to continue.

All the children at Saltus will have a teacher but students will do all their work on a computer. They won't need an exercise book as the computer will be their exercise books. Art will be different as the paper will come from the computer but the children have to draw and paint on it. Science is almost the same but the experiments are done by robots and buttons. Talking about buttons, when your chair needs to be pulled forward or backwards it is easy, you just press a button and it comes forward or backward. In the morning the parents drive in their hovercrafts and drop the kids here. The students walk to the courtyard to be checked for drugs or anything bad. Then they would play and to the bathroom to get ready for another school day.

Chiwun Smith

Saltus 3000

"Oh, no! Missed the bus again!" Steve cried, as the hover-bus zoomed away. "I'll have to use my skateboard!"

Steve went through the hedge, crunched Mrs. Smith's petunias, dodged her house, and went through another hedge. This continued until he reached Mr. Boswell's yard. Steve had to swerve so that he wouldn't crash into Mrs. Boswell, and went up a see-saw like ramp. There, he flew through the air, over the security cameras that detected any late people, towards the closing school gate. I'm going to get crunched! Steve thought. The school gates closed automatically, and moved sideways. Of course, late people wouldn't get crunched because the security cameras would keep the gate open. Steve jumped for it. He made it through and landed with a thud. Steve turned to see his skateboard get crunched by the gates. Another life-threatening day at school, he thought.

The class was watching a hologram of their teacher giving a lecture on history - U.S.S.R. splitting up, Desert Storm, famine in Somalia, all that ancient stuff. Time to liven things up, Steve thought. Teachers taped the lessons before it happened, so they could take two lessons at the same time, but they hadn't counted on Steve. He took out his screwdriver.

The holographic image was controlled by a mechanical part at the bottom. Steve screwed off part of the object and tapped at the circuitry.

"Clazz-ss," the hologram crackled, "di-dizmmmmmmizzad-dismiszed. Class dismissed. Class dismissed."

"Yes!" Steve cried, as the class ran. "It's hard work, but worth it!"

Steve ran out, only to be grabbed by a probe robot. "To the principal . . ."

"Yup", Steve said to himself, "Another life-threatening day at school!"

Andrew Cossar

Saltus's Future.

I think in the future this school will be much bigger. Transportation around the school will be by a walk-in platform device. If you had to walk it would take a day to walk from the end of the school to the other. You would have an information card to tell you where you are and what class you were supposed to be in. A machine would record what time you got there and how long you stayed. The internal furnishings would be different - you would sit at a desk and pull a cap over your head. You would be taught by brain waves and notes would be recorded in a storage file.

I think students would find a school like this to be easier and less stressful.

John Hindess

SPORTING FUN 92/93

Saltus continues to do well on the sporting front, boasting several national champions in team and individual events. The inter-house competitions remain extremely competitive, with a high level of participation by the students.

National Competitions

The National Swimming championships was the first event of the year. Notable individual successes were achieved by Robin Massey (2 golds), Ben Pewter (1 gold), Paul Murphy (1 gold, 2 silvers), Christian Pollard (2 golds), James Boyce (1 gold), Julian Wozniak (1 gold), Michael Pantry (2 golds, 1 silver) and Graham Smith (2 golds, 1 silver).

The boys relay team tied for first place with Port Royal School and our combined girls and boys totals placed us 3rd overall. Well done swimmers.

The soccer season was a tough one for us this year. Dellwood and West Pembroke were very strong and we could not record a victory in our four league fixtures. Nevertheless, it was a good building year and hopefully we shall be able to utilize the experience gained in the new season.

The cross-country teams achieved our greatest successes of the year on the tough St. George's course. The Under 10 Boys came second and Over 10 Boys finished first. Tyler Butterfield placed third in the Under 10's, followed closely behind in 8th place by Fraser Hunt. Spencer Butterfield won the Over 10 boys event and was ably supported by Derek DeChabert (8th), Ben Pewter (12th) Adam Archibald (19th) and Seamus Durkin (49th) to secure the trophy. Well done cross-country runners!

The school cricket squad had a successful year and only just missed out on reaching the playoffs. They suffered one defeat at the hands of West Pembroke. However, quite comprehensive victories were achieved against Elliott School, Victor Scott School and Prospect Primary School. Ian Armstrong skippered the side and scored 167 runs in four innings without losing his wicket. Well done, Ian! Adrian McLean helped out with the run making and Jim West, Trevor Corday and Julian Wozniak shouldered most of the bowling. Congratulations, cricketers on a successful year.

Several of our athletes made it to the Track and Field National Championships. Gold medals were won by Cervio Cox (Under 10 Cricket Ball Throw) and Spencer Butterfield (over 11 800m and 1500m). Tyler Butterfield finished 4th in the Under 10 800m. Spencer Butterfield, in addition to his successes mentioned above, won the Primary School Bank of Butterfield Front Street Mile and was the Mid Atlantic Athletic Club Cross-Country Series winner for the 1992-93 season. Spencer was our nominee for this year's Denton Hurdle Award and finished runner-up. Congratulations on a great year, Spencer!

After dominating the softball championships for the last two years, this year we lost out in the final to Dellwood in triple over-time. What a shame!! The game appeared to be in the bag, but catches win matches and we dropped a few vital ones on the day. Nevertheless, the Team performed most creditably.

As more girls entered the school, so does our sporting involvement in girls sports increase. Bobbi-Jo Marshall, Jennifer Spurling, Laura Schoenberger and Melissa Durrant swam well in the National Championships. Auralee Cassiday and Alison Atherden are strong gymnasts. Megan Spurling is developing into a good all round athlete and Akilah Mills shows promise on the track. Next year we are hoping to get involved in the Netball and Softball competitions.

SCIENCE STAFF DEPART...

David Harrison joined Saltus in September 1977. He has nurtured the Science department in his time here and ensured its successful growth. There are now more members of staff, more subjects taught and more and better laboratories. He has not only been involved in academics however and he has played an active role in the development of the school and contributed to rugby, successfully coaching numerous winning teams in the Whitney sevens tournament. It's difficult to sum up in a few words the part he has played at Saltus in his sixteen years with us, so I will just say that he will be sorely missed and we wish him and his wife Linda well on their travels.

Alan McCormick joined Saltus in September 1987 and it is entirely appropriate that I should be writing this tribute within a yearbook whose theme is 'Growing'. Not only has he seen Saltus grow in his six years with us but he has also been responsible for a number of projects to enhance both the school and Bermuda. He was involved in the centenary tree planting scheme and has worked tirelessly to enhance all our surroundings. He has grown personally since his arrival in Bermuda developing his interests in music, boating and the environment. We wish him well with his Doctorate at Manchester University.

GOOD LUCK!

NEW

We have a record player and a tape recorder and nothing else . . .

For the time being, your sphere of operations will be the Assembly Hall, which contains a grand piano and in which you can take class periods. We can easily have a blackboard and anything you want moved in there. The new building is in course of construction, and, after one or two terms, we ought to be able to install you in a modest 'music school' with perhaps a small form room and two sound-proof practice boxes. But you will have to make do for the time being . . .

Headmaster, Roy Haygarth writing to his 'new' music teacher in the summer of 1969

We have just heard that you will be flying out on the 4th September, B.O.A.C. Flight No 671 leaving London at 4:30 p.m. arriving in Bermuda at 6:45 p.m. I shall be at the airport to meet you.

(11th July 1969)

When I arrived in September 1969, Saltus was indeed a very different place. The whole school was on one campus, the Prep School being housed just above the Junior School ramp. The total student enrollment from age 5 to age 16 was less than 400.

Life in the Senior School was certainly rougher and tougher than it is these days; discipline was often harsh and the cane was used with great regularity!

Sport was confined to soccer, rugby and cricket and the whole school had to turn out twice a week to play one of these options depending on the season.

The curriculum was also more limited: Economics, Business Studies, Design & Technology, Computer Studies and Technology were still pipe-dreams. In fact, I was the first Music teacher and a year later an Art specialist was appointed.

Post-Graduate Year (or rather Senior Year as it was then called) did not start until 1974 and even then with only six students. Girls were admitted for the first time (apart from the few in our Junior school who had remained with us when we merged with Cavendish in 1972) but it was to be almost two decades before we saw the school become fully co-educational.

There are countless happy memories of Saltus: the first band Concert, The Saltus Concert Society productions; dramatic productions such as "Oliver", "All the King's Men", "Fiddler on the Roof", "Gunslinger", "The Dracula Spectacular" and "The Royal Hunt of the Sun" (with which I was not involved but I was able to be a highly appreciative member of the audience).

Great characters of Saltus include, Steve Stephenson, Roy Haygarth, Chet Butterfield, Paul Galea, Mary Hopkins, and Jean Cox. Among the student body, the following have left a lasting impression: Del Pedro, John Woolridge, Allan Marshall, Alan Pitman, The Way Family, Lorraine Rosorea, Jenny Gardner and Derek Binns to name but a few.

Saltus has been providing the backbone of Bermudian society for over a century now and I have no reason to believe that this will change - in fact, I'm sure that it will improve with age.

Music 1992-93

This was another busy year for the Music Department with the usual number of concerts taking place. Under the umbrella of the Saltus Concert Society an orchestral programme was presented in St. John's in November with Miss Lisa Wyatt as the Soloist in Crusell's Concerto in F minor for Clarinet & Orchestra. Her was a platform for Miss Wyatt's stunning talent where she held the audience spellbound with her mastery of the music. Also in that programme was Mozart's Violin Concerto in A major with Kerry Haslam of The Menuhin Foundation as the soloist. Again, the audience was dazzled with the superlative musicianship of the performer.

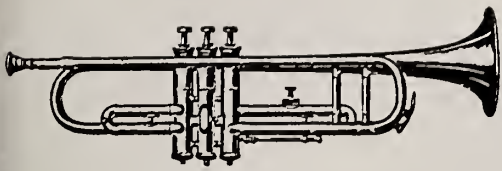

Carols for All attracted a huge audience again. The singing from both choir and congregation was indeed memorable. The Band & Strong orchestra acquitted themselves well in the March Concert and the Solo performances were of a uniformly high standard.

The results of The Royal Schools of Music were very creditable. Special praise to Jason Leman on his Advanced Certificate in Flute and to Hywel Brown on winning the Ferraz Cup. Congratulations, too, to Douglas Jones on his Merit in Grade 8 Clarinet.

This is my last report before I leave Saltus in July. To those students and staff who have contributed so much to music over the past 24 years I would like to add my very sincere thanks. It has been a pleasure working with you and you will all provide me with many happy memories in the years to come.

BRASS AND WOODWIND

During the first week of the Christmas Holiday fifteen Brass players from Junior and Senior schools enjoyed playing seasonal music at a Christmas Brass course held at Cavendish.

Eight and nine year olds were able to combine with hardened old hands from the last year senior school to present a greatly appreciated concert at the close of the course. Five students only started to learn a brass instrument during the term before Christmas and proved to their parents and friends how much they had achieved in such a short time. Traditional favourites were studied and performed alongside pieces such as a selection of music from "Home Alone".

1992 saw the launch of the "Furness Line", a family group formed by Alan Furness with his wife Lesley and sons (Danny J7P and Tom J5C). The name was suggested by the famous cruise liners that visited Bermuda for many years. The Furness Line has already made a number of T.V. appearances and has performed at altus concerts and Carols for All.

INTERSCHOOL SWIM MEET OCTOBER 6TH, 1992

Mr. Beard & Miss Cherry

Nye Bevin, a famous British politician of the late 1940's was once asked how his home town intended to celebrate the opening of its first ever public swimming pool. Bevin replied that the one thing that would not happen is that a swimming club (he actually referred to them as "trained seals") be invited to perform with races etc. Bevin was not against excellence; what he wanted was for as many townsfolk as possible to use the pool and to enjoy it.

This goes some way to explaining our P.E. philosophy at Saltus. We like to hear of those students who are representing the universities at sport, but just as importantly we like to hear of those who are involved in inter-mural sports; i.e. those students who were not star athletes but who, during their time at Saltus, learned and played a variety of sports for recreation and enjoyment rather than competition.

We are constantly modifying our curriculum and facilities to help our students get the most out of Physical Education and Sport. The following pages give an idea of all that we do. What must be taken into account is that the majority of the sports discussed here are played and coached outside the school curriculum.

The success of such a programme depends on the help given to us by dedicated staff and the tremendous spirit and co-operation of the students.

Sports

Saltus boys won their 16th consecutive overall title in the Interschool Swim Meet held on October 6th, 1992 at the BASA Pool. Such was their domination that they won every race in the U.13 and 15 & Over divisions, and won 4 out of 7 races in the U.15 division. William Massey dominated the U.13 division with four GOLD medals, which also produced three interschool records. Massey broke the longest standing interschool record, completing the 25m butterfly in 14.60 seconds, breaking the old mark by three tenths of a second. He was also a member of the record-breaking relay teams. Along with teammates Matthew Hammond (backstroke), Trevor Nelson (breaststroke) and Stephen Troake (freestyle), Massey swam a very fast butterfly leg to help his team SMASH the old medley relay record, set in 1987, by almost four seconds. The same foursome beat the freestyle relay record by 3.71 seconds. Hammond, Nelson and Troake also picked up victories in their individual events, with Hammond breaking the eight year old backstroke record by one hundredth of a second.

The U.15 boys division was dominated again this year by Stephen Fahy who claimed four GOLD medals. Fahy swam to convincing victories in the 25m butterfly and 100m individual medley, and then teamed up with Trevor Hedges (backstroke), Nicholas Van de Weg (breaststroke) and Johnny Andrew (freestyle), to take golds in the medley and freestyle relays.

Saltus continued to display their dominance in the 15 & Over division by gaining maximum points. Trevor Ferguson and Andrew Smith dominated, winning TWO golds in their individual events, and TWO golds in the two relay events. Ferguson claimed victory in nail-biting 50m butterfly, but won the 50m backstroke convincingly. Smith easily won the 50m breaststroke and 100m individual medley. Ferguson and Smith teamed up with Tim Furr and Chris Garland to win the medley and freestyle relays. Furr also won the individual 50m freestyle event.

The Saltus girls tied their overall record from last year by placing 3rd. But they went two steps better in the U.13 age group by claiming age group honours over Warwick Academy, BHS and MSA. Toni Kelly won gold in the 25m backstroke and then teamed up with Sarah Titterton, Leighanne Shaw and Fiona Herring to win gold in both the medley and freestyle relays. The U.15 girls placed 3rd in their age group and the 15 & Over girls placed 2nd in their age group behind Warwick Academy and in front of BHS.

WHAT'S THE SCORE

SALTUS INVITATIONAL 'B' SWIM MEET

This year Saltus hosted a swim meet involving swimmers who are not members of local swim clubs. Swimmers from Warwick Academy, Northlands and Sandys competed against our Saltus squad. Our boys continued to show their strength by winning the boys title over Warwick Academy by 16 points. Nick Fagundo did well in the 15 & Over age group with two individual wins.

The girls showed that they are fast improving by losing out to Warwick Academy girls by only 11 points. The overall title was won by Warwick Academy with Saltus placing 2nd by a mere 5 points.

CONGRATULATIONS TO EVERYBODY WHO PARTICIPATED IN THE SWIM MEETS!!

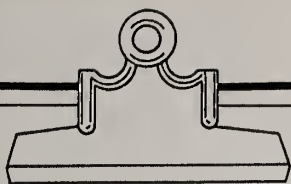

INTERHOUSE SWIM MEET

Darrell claimed victory for their third consecutive year in the Annual Interhouse Swim Meet held in September. The competition was very close behind the winners as Watlington, Saltus and Butterfield were fighting for 2nd place honours. It was down to the final relay before 2nd, 3rd and 4th places were determined.

11 records were broken and 2 new records were established.

	points
1st DARRELL	189
2nd SALTUS	146
3rd WATLINGTON	141
4th BUTTERFIELD	139

The inter house cross country was this year won by Darrell. Individual winners, shown in the photographs opposite, were; Nakia Wolfe, Janice Maughan, Samantha Adams, Stephen Fahy, and Kris Hedges. Also shown are the runners up in each category.

This was indeed a successful season. We finished second in the league, losing only to Berkeley. In fact it was a measure of the improvement made by the team that we lost 8-1 to Berkeley in the first game of the season and then had a very close game with them in the last game of the season losing 4-2.

The main problem the team had was the lack of a regular goalkeeper. Andre Bean was clearly the best goalkeeper but he was also the best goalscorer. Sergio Augustus and Sam Fraser-Smith played in goal in some matches and made some fine saves.

In contrast to the goalkeeping department, we had a regular defensive line-up. Darryl Fubler and Craig Brown placed in the centre and Matthew Hocking, Ryan Gaglio and Gavin Smith as fullbacks. Craig is a solid defender and a strong tackler. Darryl was the team's most improved player. His game is uncomplicated - he wins the ball and then passes it to a player in space to receive the ball. Ryan improved considerably and will be a key player in next year's team. Gavin is a strong player who needs to improve his distribution. Matthew is an overlapping full-back of great potential. Perhaps he needs to improve his recovery speed after his ventures into attack.

In midfield we had some very talented ball players. We chose from Wolde Place, Stephen Fahy, Ryan Matcham, Treadwell Tucker and Justin Browne. These are all naturally attacking soccer players but throughout the season they all improved their defensive contribution. Stephen and Ryan in particular worked hard in matches and now realise that being a midfield player isn't easy.

Ricky Carruthers played as striker, usually with Andre Bean. Ricky developed an ability to pressurize defenders into making mistakes and they both scored some memorable goals. Andre is a very talented player who has considerable strength and

As can be seen from the results this was another excellent season. Andre Bean was the find of the season as he willingly gave up his midfield position to play in goal. His penalty save against Sandys gave us the impetus we needed to come from behind to win.

Team captain - Dion Woolridge marshalled our defence in fine style. Rajee Shakir, Jacob Hocking, Darryl Fubler, Tim Furr and Steven Carruthers all did splendid jobs in keeping our back line strong.

The mid-field was run by Nakia Wolfe, Chris Garland, Vincent Williams-Savery, Wolde Place and Toks Atiba, with Steven Carruthers and Tarik Smith also making a major contribution.

The attacking roles were given to John Best and Noel Taylor. John showed that he is one of the most lethal finishers in youth football; Noel quickly showed that he is not! However without Noel's prolific work rate and attitude the attacking aspects of our game would have suffered considerably.

The team was a pleasure to coach as it was their attitude as much as their ability that helped them to be so successful.

Dion Woolridge did a fine job as captain and was re-awarded his colours as were R. Shakir, J. Hocking, S. Carruthers, C. Garland, V. Williams-Savery, J. Best, N. Taylor. New colours were awarded to D. Fubler, T. Furr, N. Wolfe, W. Place, T. Smith and A. Bean.

WHAT'S THE SCORE

pace. He was a good captain and fully deserved the MVP award.

Most of the team will be seniors next year so it will be a time for re-building. However most of the successful junior team will become intermediates and the signs are that next year will be a good one too!

This has undoubtedly been one of the most successful seasons ever for our Junior Soccer team, finishing as runners-up in the League and winning the Inter-Schools Cup in a very exciting final against Whitney Institute at the National Stadium which went into extra-time and was finally decided by a penalty shoot-out. All of the players worked extremely hard throughout the season and a strong team spirit emerged which was no better illustrated than in the Cup Semi-final away to Berkeley Institute when, having led by two goals at the interval, we found ourselves 3-2 down with five minutes to go. A remarkable recovery was staged which saw us emerge as 4-3 winners in regulation time.

As captain, Stephen Troake did an excellent job both on and off the field. His enthusiasm and work rate set an example for all. Other notable performances came from Justin Barritt, who matured as a goalkeeper game by game and saved his best performance for the Cup Final; Graeme Potterton, Simon Franklin and Richard King, who held the defence together so well; Craig Panchaud, who gave 100% wherever he played; DeJaun Paynter, whose mid-field skills created many scoring opportunities; Brian Irvine, one of our effective "twin towers" strike force; and Sergio Augustus, who played in nearly every position and always came through at the vital moment. I should stress, however, that our success was in no way due to one individual. Even those who were not regular starters performed well when called upon and it is to the team's credit that they were able to win at National Stadium even without the services of injured striker William Massey who had scored so many important goals in previous games.

It is unfortunate that in moving from the Junior to Intermediate level, some players will not get a regular game. However, if they are able to maintain a positive approach towards training, I am certain that all of the members of this year's Junior squad will bring Saltus soccer even more success in the future.

PGY GIRLS WIN THRILLER: 1-0

HOCKEY

Hockey 1993 (Goals scored 69, goals against 2)

In Saltus' 2nd full season of interschool competition the girls have been very successful. The standard of play has been high and Saltus has clearly outplayed all other school sides. The 1X1 often looked like the Bermuda U-21 side and it was clear that many of the Junior X1 were able to play in the 1X1 quite comfortably. The Junior X1 under the guidance of Mr. West became so dominant that they have formed Swifts Hockey Club which will play weekly in the Bermuda Ladies Hockey Association League next season which will ensure that Saltus' standards remain high and that hockey in Bermuda will continue to grow. This season 45 girls have participated in the various leagues and tournaments.

FIRST ELEVEN (Goals scored 42, goals against 0)

The season began with the inaugural Saltus 7-a-side competition. In the pool matches Saltus 'A' beat B.H.S. 3-0 with goals from Lisa Haynes, Alex Tytheridge and Janice Maughan and beat Northlands 2-0 (Alex and Lisa). Saltus 'B' lost narrowly to Warwick Academy but beat Whitney 1-0 with a goal from Joanne Bielby. In the semi-final Saltus 'A' beat Saltus 'B' 3-0 (Janice, Samantha Adams and Alex). In the final Saltus 'A' beat Warwick Academy 1-0 with a goal from captain Janice Maughan.

The schools League was won easily without conceding a goal, indeed goalkeeper Natasha Sirjusingh never ever touched the ball! The results were

Saltus	5	v	Sandys	0
Saltus	4	v	Northlands	0
Saltus	7	v	Whitney	0
B.H.S.	0	v	Saltus	4
Warwick Academy	0	v	Saltus	3

The goals were scored by Janice, Sam, Kerry Graham, Joanne, Emily Black, Caroline Black and Ana Anton.

At the B.S.S.E. Tournament Saltus again dominated beating B.H.S. 1-0 with a goal by Sam, Northlands 3-0 (Janice, Kerry, Caroline), Whitney 3-0 (Janice, Sam, Caroline) and drawing with Warwick Academy 0-0.

The final game of the season was against Peterborough High School from Toronto and for the first time the team met a side of equal quality. Some good hockey was played and finally our goalkeeper Danielle Skinner (who was deputising for Natasha Sirjusingh) had some shots to save. Goals by Janice and Ana finally ensured a well deserved 2-0 victory.

With 4 players selected to train with the Senior National Squad (Janice, Sam, Lisa and Kirsten Butterworth) and 5 others chosen for the National U-21 Squad (Kerry, Joanne, Ana, Emily and Caroline) it had not been surprising how successful this team has been.

UNIOR GIRLS

After a successful first season last year much was expected of the team and I am pleased to report the team has continued not only in their winning ways but have played with determination and enthusiasm and received many compliments. The first year girls have become greatly involved and training sessions after school and during the lunch period have seen as many as 30 pupils taking an active part in learning the skills of the game. Hard work and practice saw the first year girls dominate the Bermuda Schools stickwork competition, winning both the team and individual competitions with Danielle Skinner taking runner up position in the goalkeepers' section.

The winning squad were Danielle Skinner, Leigh-Ann Shaw, Bonnie Leibovitch, Lindsey Sims, Andrea Benevides, Toni Kelly and Amie Dawson. Top three in the individual competition were 1st LeRoyce Bean-Mills, 2nd Cristina Underwood and 3rd Nekeisha Hayward.

Many of the first years developed so strongly during the season that several made selection into an already strong league team and others, through regular attendance to practices and personal improvements, are now in contention for places. The first competition for the juniors was the BSSF 7 a-side tournament held at Saltus. Two teams were entered with the 'A' team taking the runners-up spot after Warwick Academy scored after only 30 seconds of play in the first game to beat us 1-0. Incredibly, this was one of only two goals the team conceded all season, Warwick also scoring the other in a league match. A young 'B' team played very well, particularly a defence where Tiffany Sousa showed great potential, but lacked the scoring touch of the 'A' team.

Once the 11 a-side league started, the stickwork skills were soon evident and quickly backed up by some excellent passing and teamwork. Ana Anton's determination and aggressive play were too much for many of the opposition (and Mr. Vest's nose!), giving her 7 of the team's 12 goals scored. The way in which Ana took her opportunities against a strong BHS side underlined the way in which she has come on this year, taking on defenders and striking a vicious shot high into the net. A midfield Caroline and Emily Black controlled passing and distribution while Emily's stickwork and running have given the forwards support. The defence, and the oppositions forwards, have been dominated by the play of Samantha Adams who has also performed the role of captain. Sam could play anywhere in the team and still make an outstanding contribution, not only is her play excellent but she also has the ability to listen and take advice and has a strong future in ladies hockey in Bermuda. A total of 19 players have represented Saltus junior hockey this season and all should be complimented for their commitment and efforts. As a result of the high standards of play and the desire of the players to improve themselves, the decision has been taken to form a new club, Swifts HC, and to take part in a full season of league hockey starting in September. Training is already well under way with the 4 players who have expressed an interest. Congratulations are due to Sam Adams, Caroline and Emily Black, and Ana Anton for their selection to the Bermuda U21 National Squad.

BSSF ANNUAL 1st YEAR STICKWORK COMPETITION

SALTUS Grammar School girls won their second consecutive 1st year hockey stickwork competition on Monday February 22nd.

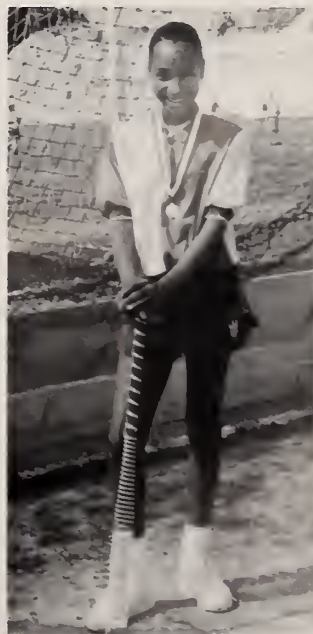

In the team competition, Saltus (342 points) defeated BHS 'A' (307 points), Northlands (278 points) and BHS 'B' (272 points). SALTUS' team members were:

DANIELLE SKINNER (goalkeeper)
LEIGH ANN SHAW (highest score)
BONNIE LEIBOWITCH
LINDSEY SIMS
ANDREA BENEVIDES
TONI KELLY and AMIE DAWSON

In the Individual competition EIGHT girls participated, with SALTUS taking the top three places. LeROYCE BEAN-MILLS won the closely contested event with 52 points. CRISTINA UNDERWOOD followed with 48 points and NEKEISHA HAYWARD

HAYWARD was 3rd with 45 points.

The goal keeping section of the competition was a very closely fought battle with only NINE points separating the four participants. Danielle Skinner was second with 36 points.

Mr. Boardman and the junior girls team

Junior Girls Basketball

The majority of the squad had experienced some degree of participation in the previous season and were eager to continue to improve. Basketball requires a high degree of mental, as well as physical skill and the players worked hard to become a disciplined unit. Practice does not make perfect it makes permanent; therefore sloppy habits in practise translate into poor execution in games and this was an area in which a lot of work was done and a definite improvement was made. Unfortunately no points are awarded for style and the height of the hoop is the same for a 4 ft. 9 in. girl as it is for Michael Jordan; therefore at times a high level of team skill was not rewarded by a commensurate number of points. The team learned a simple series of offensive plays and a single defensive system which they ran in all of the games. The result of their considerable endeavours was a league campaign with only one loss and victory in the B.S.S.F. tournament.

All successful basketball teams are composed of a balanced "starting five" and a strong "bench", the latter being able to enter a game and provide a decisive contribution at any time. The ultimate success of the team was dependent upon the strength of the bench as was seen by its contribution in the tournament final. The team was well led by captain and starting point guard Samantha Adams.

Squad

Guards: S. Adams*, S. Rego*, C. Black

Centres: T. Osborne*, L. Shaw

Forwards: N. Sirjusingh*, M. Spurling*, M. Puszkur, E. Black, B. Huseby, *starting five

S. Adams, C. Black, N. Sirjusingh, T. Osborne and M. Spurling all played in the successful All Star Team. S. Rego was also selected but unable to play because of illness.

Most importantly I hope all of the squad enjoyed the season and I thank them sincerely for their contributions.

A. Boardman

Juniors

The hard work put in by the boys and Tim Trott last year really paid off as the team dominated the league winning all their games in fine style. The closest was a three-point win over MSA, but all of the others were by a considerable margin.

Andre Bean was the team's MVP as he dominated our offence and defence to finish as high point scorer. He was closely followed by Wolde Place who did most of the ball handling. The forwards' jobs were shared by Stephen Fahy, Damian Simmons, Sean Durkin, Jonathan Andrews and Jase Farrington; whilst the job of the guards were admirably fulfilled by Craig Brown, Jon Legere, Justine Browne, Ricky Carruthers and Treadwell Tucker.

SENIOR BOYS

With all but one of last year's league winning team leaving, or seniors were not expected to do particularly well; but hard work by the boys and coach Tim Trott saw them finish with a winning season and in 4th place in the league. They defeated Roger B. Chaffee, Whitney, Warwick Sec. and Northlands and lost to Berkeley, M.S.A. and Warwick Academy.

Most of their games were very close affairs, but perhaps the most memorable game was a tournament game against Warwick Academy. We were 3 points down with 3 seconds on the clock and Warwick were shooting a free throw. Toks Atiba grabbed the rebound and put up a shot from close to the basket we were defending. The Gym became as hushed as a church as everyone followed the flight of the ball. It went in and scenes resembling a carnival followed. Warwick were understandably in shock over this and we went on to win by 20 points in overtime. Most of the games were like this - perhaps not quite so dramatic.

Nakia Wolffe was our MVP due to his tremendous all-around ability, with Adam Davis following close for most points. The hard work under the boards was shared by these to along with Adam Bruton, Nick Fagundo, Dion Woodbridge, James Adderley, Craig Diggins, Toks Atiba and Lydon Grant. The bulk of the ball carrying was left to Nakia, Adam, Dion, Charlie Judd, Gregg Farrington and Noel Taylor. All of the players were deservedly awarded their colours.

MEREDITH ANDREWS - The teams fill-in-center and spark plug.

ALEX TYTHERIDGE - Alex Jordan would take anyone to the basket, she was an every filled guard.

RACHEL TROAKE - Came to the team late but was able to help us at the guard spot.

COACHES NOTES: The team had a lot of character and improved every part of their game by the end of the season, when they were playing well enough to beat anyone in the league. Next season the Saltus girls varsity team should be a power house.

SENIOR GIRLS

In the Saltus running clock tournament the ladies won their first game and were in position to be in their first tournament final of the year, if only they could hold off a strong Berkeley team and not lose by more than eight points. Unfortunately they lost by nine points after a hard fought game that saw them control the second half. None the less they played well for their first game and the coach was pleased with their effort.

The team relied heavily on their captain's scoring, the team's very good free throw shooting and good defence to win games. The ladies did very well in the first two games winning them both. After game two Lisa Haynes received an injury and the team only managed to win one more league game, finishing with a 50% record for the season.

The last challenge for the ladies was the BSSF Interschool Tournament, where they played some of the best basketball of the season in the varsity league. Every player lifted her own game to near peak levels. It was only bad luck and the smallest lapse in defence that allowed the eventual tournament winners, MSA, to beat the Saltus girls by one basket. They should all be proud.

The team was:

LISA HAYNES (Capt.) - Averaged 18.8 ppg, 11 rpg and shot 80% from the foul line. Leader in scoring for varsity girls.

KEIRA PETTY (V/Capt.) - Feisty point guard, she picked up her scoring in Lisa's absence.

SIMIEON MASSEY (V/Capt.) - Level headed shooting guard who did a little of everything for the team, had a good year.

SARAH TUFTS - Saltus version of "Charles Barkley" or small power forward. Helped in all areas.

JANICE MAUGHAN - The team's best defensive player. She played centre and point guard and took her rebounds from 3 to 11.8 per game.

KERRY GRAHAM - Most improved player. Went from playing only when needed, to starting the last 4 games.

ABBY KERMODE - Our flashy forward. Played well in the low post.

ALEX RATTERAY - Another power player. A great offensive rebounder.

AMANDA DECOUTO - Joined the team late but caught on to the guard's job very quickly.

Netball

Saltus participated in the U.14 and O.15 age groups this year. The O.15 girls did better than last year finishing 5th out of 10 schools in the League. In the Interschool tournament Saltus also finished 5th. Janice Maughan, Sarah Tufts, Kerry Graham and Alex Ratteray were chosen to represent the East All-Star team. Janice Maughan was voted M.V.P.

The U.14 girls also finished 5th in the league. Fine performances by Emily and Caroline Black as well as Ana Anton and Tiffany Sousa lead the girls to 3 victories in 7 games.

U. 14 Caroline Black (Capt.), Emily Black, Julia Parker, Ana Anton, Tiffany Sousa, Danielle Skinner, Natasha Sirjusingh, Kimberley Oatley
O.15 Janice Maughan (Capt.), Sarah Tufts, Kerry Graham, Rachael Barritt, Lisa Haynes, Alex Ratteray, Suzanne Rego, Mandy Puszkur

INTERSCHOOL SOFTBALL 1993

Saltus entered teams in all four of the Interschool Tournaments. The U.14 girls, captained by Emily and Caroline Black, made it to the second round, an improvement on last year, but were defeated by a much bigger Warwick Academy team. The Senior girls, captained by Sarah Tufts, went one step further than last year as well, making it to the second round, before being beaten by Whitney Institute.

Saltus entered two boys' teams in the Boys' competition. The 'B' team unfortunately had an early start with a narrow defeat at the hands of MSA and another by Berkeley's 'B' team.

The 'A' team captained by Chris Garland made it to the semi finals where they were beaten in a very close game against Chaffee High School, 14-16.

This year saw the first Co-Ed tournament which proved to be very competitive. After making it through to the second round, our team got beaten by St. George's Secondary 9-8, in a game that was full of fielding errors.

Volleyball

Both the Junior and Senior girls team experienced successful seasons this year. The Juniors (U.15) led by Co-Captains Samantha Adams and Caroline Black won the League with convincing victories over MSA, Warwick Academy and Northlands. The girls were destined to win the Inter-school Tournament but they were unable to capitalize in their chances. They defeated Northlands A and B teams, Warwick Academy A and B teams but lost to M.S.A. placing them 2nd overall.

Juniors: Samantha Adams (Co-capt.), Caroline Black (Co-capt.), Tracy Osborne, Natasha Sirjusingh, Emily Black, Leigh Anne Shaw, Bonnie Leibowitch, Julia Parker, Danielle Skinner, Lindsey Sims, LeRoyce Mills, Latoyia Swainson & Cristina Underwood.

The Senior girls (15+), led by Co-captains Alex Ratteray and Sarah Tufts, were runners up in the League by beating Northlands, Whitney Institute, Warwick Academy and Berkeley Institute but lost to M.S.A. Saltus entered 2 teams in the Inter-school Tournament. The 'B' beat Whitney in their first game but lost to Warwick Academy in a nail biter 11-15 and M.S.A. 7-15 in a high-spirited game. They placed 3rd overall.

The 'A' team were all but eliminated from the tournament when they got a second chance. They had to break a 3 way tie with Northlands who they beat 15-4 in round robin play and Chaffee, who beat them 12-15 in round robin play. Saltus pulled themselves together and the great team effort helped them to victories in both games putting them in the semi-finals against League Champions and last year's tournament champions M.S.A. The momentum they gained in the previous 2 games carried them to this game. The girls handily defeated M.S.A. 15-7. This win placed them in the finals against newcomers Berkeley Institute. Saltus eventually beat Berkeley 15-13 after many lead changes and after being down 13-10 at one point. SARAH TUFTS was named team M.V.P.

GOLF

Inter-House Golf Competition

Golf has now been added to the numerous inter-house sporting events, and each house fielded a team of four players to play in a match at the Southampton Princess Golf Course on Thursday 18th March. In windy but sunny conditions the teams played a Stableford competition with each player's points counting towards the house totals.

In this way each player's score was crucial right up to the last putt, leading to a very close finish. The teams and scores were as follows:-

1st Butterfield

G. Mello, K. Smith, G. Smith, R. Spurling 138 points

2nd Watlington

C. Garland, A. Riker, C. Brown, C. Tully 133 points

3rd Saltus

N. Wolffe, A. Smith, M. Sims, J. Barritt 132 points

4th Darrell

M. Fahy, S. Carruthers, T. Furr, M. Hocking 109 points

Congratulations to the "Butterfield Birdie Machine" and also to Kent Smith and Michael Sims for their fine individual scores of 44 points each.

My grateful thanks again go to Bruce and Carol Sims at the Southampton Princess for their time and support, and to Mr. Smith for his cheerful presence and assistance.

Mr. S. Morgan

FIRST YEAR BOYS VERSUS THE STAFF

BERNARD PARK SOFTBALL DIAMOND, JUNE 4TH, 1993.

The first years took the early lead in this exciting game. At the end of the 1st inning the score was 1-0 in favour of the first years. But the staff rallied back to take an 8-3 lead at the end of the second. The staff narrowly held on to their lead through out the third inning with the score 8-7. in the fourth inning the hitters took over. The staff record 9 runs to extend their lead to 17-7 at the end of the fourth inning.

The first years dug deep, and with the help of the many fielding errors by the teachers, climbed back into the game racking up 10 runs to tie the game 17-17. The forced the teachers to bat again. With two out and two on base, Mr. Raistrick hit to centre field to send Mr. Durrant home and secure the game for the teachers. The final score was 18-17.

CHESS CHAMPIONS AGAIN!

This year's chess team of SHIMON ALKON (our redoubtable captain), MICHAEL STARLING, WAHEED BROWN & CHRIS HARDY was again a strong force to be reckoned with at the Annual Inter-Schools Chess Competition held at Saltus on May 8th. After four rounds of exciting play, Saltus had successfully defended the team championship beating Warwick Academy by 10 points by 6 points.

Earlier in the year SHIMON ALKON successfully beat out all opponents in the Individual Junior Chess Competition to retain his Junior Chess Champion title. Shimon is off to Czechoslovakia in July to represent Bermuda in the Junior World Championships. CZECH MATE, Shimon!

SPORTS TOUR '93

At Easter 1993, forty three students from throughout the school went to England to play soccer, basketball, rugby, netball, volleyball and hockey. The tour was a huge success and all the players rose to the sporting challenge. Results were good and the group worked well together as a unit. This was clearly the most intensive sports tour ever undertaken by Saltus and it is to everyone's credit that it was such a success.

VOLLEYBALL

Senior

An enthusiastic senior squad had a very impressive season.

The spiking of Nakia Wolffe and Adam Smith was first rate. They were assisted in this area by James Adderley, Chris Garland, Nick Fagundo and Tim Furr whilst Chris, Tim and Alex Rollin shared the setting. Michael Branco, Justin Kendall, Noel Taylor and Adam Farrell all contributed in both A and B team games.

GIRLS

Both of our girls' teams performed exceptionally well this year. The juniors, led by Samantha Adams and Caroline Hill, won the League without losing a match. They were runners up in the Interschool tournament.

MVP: Samantha Adams

Our seniors, led by Sarah Tufts and Alex Ratteray, were runners up in the league, losing out to MSA. But their fortunes were reversed as they won the Interschool tournament by beating MSA in the semi-finals and Berkeley Institute in the finals.

MVP: Sarah Tufts

Warwick Academy were the next hosts-providing full 15-a-side fixtures and also offering the opportunity to act as 'tens' opposition. Pancake Tuesday saw Saltus defeat Warwick at U.17 level during a torrential downpour - James Adderley was the try scorer.

The Easter Tour saw the senior rugby team in 'tens' action at schools in Herefordshire and Worcestershire. As was to be expected it took a while for the squad to react to the change in conditions and the quality of the opposition but the boys' attitude and approach were always first class. Their delight at winning their third game in convincing fashion at Bewdley had to be seen to be believed and their gritty determination against a hugely more experienced side at Hereford RFC was admirable.

It was pleasing to see such a fine spirit of camaraderie amongst the rugby players. Craig Diggins was an able and enthusiastic captain and I hope that he and the others will maintain their links with rugby football in the years ahead.

RUGBY

This busy term was successful in that innumerable practices took place, often in preparation for the Easter Tour, and games of Rugby Football were played at all ages.

Ten-a-side was the format that had been adopted for the Easter tour and much time was spent on refining the skills necessary for this type of game.

Seven-a-side and full fifteens were also played. The Annual Whitney 7's tournament, now in its 35th year involved the surviving "rugby schools" on the island - Warwick Academy, Whitney and Saltus.

Two U.13 teams entered the Whitney tournament along with one U.15 and one U.17 team. Plenty of exciting running, bone-crunching tackles and a lot of respect for the need to be in really good physical shape saw our U.15 team win their section of the competition in fine style.

UNIOR CRICKET

The first match of the season gave the cause for optimism. Against Whitney, Saltus were all out for 23 in just 9 overs! It was, however, a good indication of the progress the team made at two weeks later, against the same team, we scored 80 runs and almost won! In the batting department, Chris Watson was outstanding. He is a cultured stroke maker with a good variety of shots. Chris Dawson, Matthew Harper, William Massey, Tywel Brown and Kevin Walsh are all hard hitters of the ball but all need to work on their defense.

Of the bowlers, Dejaun Paynter had the most success and was ably supported by Robert Spurling, Noel Pearman, Chris Dawson, Ronan Kane and Patrick Maham.

The M.V.P. award goes to Ryan Gaglio. He kept wicket in all matches and conceded very few byes. This is no mean achievement considering the variable quality of the bowling. He also fitted well when given the opportunity and I am sure that he will grow into a fine cricketer.

Nicholas Kyme, Stephen Troake, Justin Barritt and Jamie Rego also played in some matches and can look forward to having more batting and bowling opportunities next year.

24 v Whitney - lost by 8 wickets
Saltus - 23 all out
Whitney 24 for 2

24 v Northlands - won by 5 wickets
Northlands - 115
Saltus - 116 for 5

24 v Warwick Academy - won by 7 wickets
Warwick Academy - 109
Saltus - 110 for 3

24 v Whitney (Cup game) Lost by 4 runs
Whitney - 84
Saltus - 80

23 v Northlands - won by 6 runs
Saltus - 85
Northlands - 79/79 all out

BADMINTON

We were again very successful at the inter school tournament. Joanne Bielby won the senior girls singles division, and teamed up with Sarah Tufts to win the doubles. Adam Smith lost in the finals of the senior boy's division, but teamed up with James "Herbie" Adderley to win the doubles.

BADMINTON

INTERSCHOOL CROSS COUNTRY-FEBRUARY 1993

JANICE MAUGHAN (PGY) performed exceptionally well at this year's Interschool Cross Country Championships. She repeated her fine performance of last year by placing first in Senior division beating her nearest competitor by over 2 minutes.

The boys showed the importance of running as a team. Although we did not have a first placed finisher, the team worked hard to finish as high up the standings as possible, and consequently our Juniors were 3rd overall as were our Seniors and the Intermediate team finished 2nd.

Colours: Nakia Wolffe, Shaine Benevides

1X1 CRICKET

This turned out to be a very abbreviated season with only 4 games played and virtually no practices because of so many clashing commitments. In the first game against St. Georges, Saltus fielded and bowled surprisingly well with Craig Diggins, Toks Atiba (2-9) and James Adderley (2-13) tying down the St. Georges batsmen. Unfortunately Saltus' batting left much to be desired as the middle order collapsed with 4 wickets falling for 4 runs before Adderley and Tim Furr put on 17 for the last wicket, the highest stand of the innings.

Against Northlands in the Cup Saltus batting improved with Nakia Wolffe topscoring with 25. This time the fielding and bowling let us down and Northlands ran out easy winners.

On Founders Day the Old Boys amassed a huge total despite Chris Garland's four wickets. In reply the school were chasing a target out of reach and only Wolffe (35), Chris Smith (27) and Adderley (28) put any runs on the board.

In a U 16 games against Northlands, Saltus managed to restrict Northlands to a reachable target with steady bowling from Daryl Fubler and Omar Shakir. In reply Fubler and Shakir (72 n.o.) easily knocked off the runs.

RESULTS

St. Georges	96-7	Saltus	51
Saltus	114-7	Northlands	116-2
Old Boys	251	Saltus	127
Northlands	112-2	Saltus U16	114-0

I don't know where the time has gone . . . it seems as if it were only yesterday that I first entered the gates of Saltus Cavendish, wearing my name tag and that trademark red sweater; and suddenly it's all over. I recall saying at the start of the year, "I'll be glad when it's all over." But now as we approach graduation, and collect our final exam results, I find myself starting to regret that last day of school. With the culmination of my school career at Saltus, I can reflect upon its impact, as well as its future implications.

This year has been one full of new challenges and experiences. Each day promised new tasks that required our attention, or situations that either made us laugh hysterically (which we usually did), or just think

I would like to thank on behalf of Post-Graduate Year, Mr. Durrant and Mrs. Wrigley for their co-ordination of the program, and for being our 'parents' away from home. Thank you also to Mrs. Adams, and Mrs. Boorman for their limitless patience and expertise.

POST GRADUATE YEAR 1992-93

MALCOM DURRANT

The Post-Graduate Class of '93 was the largest ever, with 54 students starting the year. All of those students have worked hard to maintain the high standards expected of the Programme.

In terms of admission to colleges and universities, PGY students continue to receive positive responses from prestigious schools throughout North America, as well as the United Kingdom, and the majority will be attending institutions of their first choice. This achievement becomes even more significant when it is noted that applications to competitive schools have risen once again, making it increasingly difficult to gain admission. It is even more satisfying to report, therefore, that not only have students been accepted but several have also been given substantial scholarship awards at a time when budgetary constraints have forced many schools to cut back in this area.

Post-Graduate students have also remained significant contributors to the corporate life of the school and have involved themselves enthusiastically in numerous community activities. At the annual Teen Conference, David DeCosta received the main award for leadership, whilst Janice Maughan and Kerry Graham were commended for their abilities in sports and leadership respectively. Kerry was also selected by Rotary International to be an Exchange Student for the coming year in Brazil.

where, I am certain, she will be a fine ambassador for Bermuda. Michelle Correia represented the island for the second year in succession at the World Schools' Debating Championships, held this year in Calgary, and there was other Post-Graduate representation in such worthwhile ventures as the Youth Parliament and Keep Bermuda Beautiful. In sports, it was good to see the PGY team offer a little stiffer resistance to the much superior soccer skills of the staff, although that elusive victory has yet to come. It is, however, true to say that without the involvement of Post-Graduate students, many of the Senior teams fielded by the school would not exist. In fact, talking to Mr. Beard, he estimates that the involvement of this year's class was probably more significant than that of any previous year and he was particularly impressed with the all-round contribution made on the Easter Tour to England. In addition to representing the school, individuals were also selected to play on All-Star teams and to be members of the National Squad in a variety of sports.

Such individual achievements are certainly impressive, yet it is really the development of a corporate spirit which we seek to foster among our students. In this respect, there were two significant 'firsts' this year. One was the Christmas dance, organized and chaperoned by PGY and attended by students from Saltus J6 and J7, as well as other primary schools. It was a great success, and nothing but positive comments were heard from students, parents, and staff. The other was the inaugural trip to visit Canadian universities. All of those who went found it to be a worthwhile and rewarding -although very tiring- experience, with universities in the Maritimes, Quebec and Ontario going out of their way to accommodate our group. For the students, it gave them the opportunity to ask questions about admissions and other concerns; whilst for the parents, it opened their eyes to what campus life is really all about (and they are all still allowing their sons and daughters to go!). In fact, the trip was so successful that we have been requested to arrange another for next year's class -although don't be surprised to hear in the future that if a university trip becomes an annual event, more and more Saltus students will be applying to schools in Hawaii, Fiji, or some other educational paradise.

Nowhere, however, was the spirit we hope to develop more clearly seen than in the months of hard work which culminated in 'Get Ready For This', Fashion '93. As in previous years, the audience was treated to a show which set a standard of excellence and professionalism which will be difficult to match by any future class. Much of the credit for this success must be attributed to the patience and guidance of Mrs. Jeanne Legere, as well as to the dedication and determination of those students who gave so willingly of their time and energy to stage two evenings of entertainment which were not only profitable but also-more importantly- a great advertisement for the Programme and a valuable learning experience for themselves.

In thanking the students for all they have done, I would also like to thank on their behalf the staff - administrative, teaching, and secretarial-who do so much to ensure the continued success of the Programme. In particular, I thank Mrs. Christina Wrigley for her invaluable assistance and support.

The opening of the revised Woodlands centre sees a change in direction for an old established subject in the Saltus curriculum. Many generations have passed through the school and experienced workshop studies but the new department will give students the opportunity to test their abilities in a wider range of materials reflecting the improved standing the subject is at last enjoying. The new building is equipped to allow pupils to generate their ideas on a range of media, including the use of computer assisted design (CAD) packages, in a very pleasant air conditioned environment, before moving into a large workshop area with facilities to work in wood, metal, acrylic, and eventually electronics.

In order to get the best out of pupils and setting alike, all first and second year pupils in the senior school will follow a foundation course which will give them the basic skills to work materials to a high standard alongside the necessary graphical talents to develop and show their ideas on paper prior to manufacture. The essence of the subject at examination level is the ability to problem solve. Not only do pupils have to produce a solution to a prescribed situation but they must also be able to evaluate their ideas and suggest ways forward. Indeed, at examination level pupils must produce documentation alongside their practical solution, each of which carries equal marks.

The photographs on these pages show some of the changes going on in the subject. The wooden toys made in year 1 teach basic workshop techniques while covering energy and types of movement on the technology front. Year 2 and 3 projects are accompanied by detailed folder work showing a range of ideas before making the solutions shown here.

SECOND YEAR BIOLOGY FIELD TRIP

Debating 1992-3

The autumn term at Saltus saw the revival of the Debating Club, which met each week and tackled a wide range of issues, from the more light-hearted "Teachers should retire at forty" to the more serious "Environment should be the number one priority". Audience and participants ranged across the years, from first years to PGY and it soon became clear that Saltus students have a natural talent for debate and argument. In November, four students took part in the National Secondary Schools Debating Competition at The Bermuda College. After a number of prepared and unprepared debates and excellent teamwork, Rachael Barritt and Michelle Correia went on to win the final and the debates trophy, closely supported by Meredith Andrews and Tarik Smith.

As a result of this success, Tarik, Michelle and Rachael were selected to train for the National Team, along with students from Warwick Academy. As training sessions began in earnest, they prepared debates on the environment, the U.N., Third World debt and population control. The World Schools' Debating Championships, held in Medicine Hat, Alberta, at the end of January, proved to be a valuable and unforgettable experience for all three students. They survived ten days of stiff competition from older and more experienced teams from all over the world, learning a great deal about good debating and forging friendships with the international teams - for which Tarik was awarded "The Spirit of the Worlds" trophy. Tarik is to be commended for his achieving this award and for his luge run at the Calgary Olympic Stadium, which sent him hurtling down an icy track at over 30 km per hour!

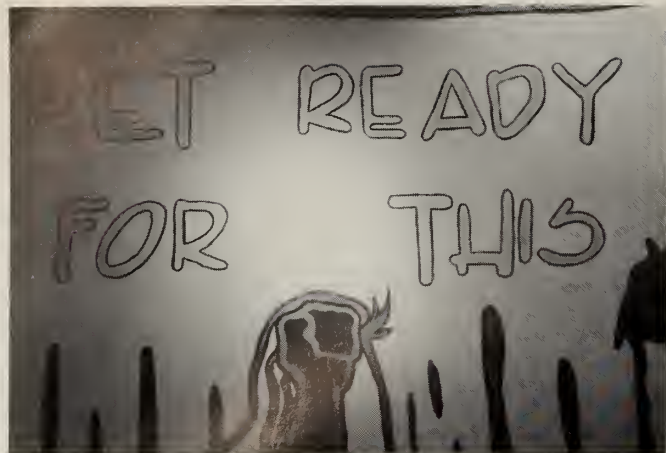

Later on in the year the first year students began to be more actively involved in debates, showing great enthusiasm and confidence. They took part in a show debate at the Open House in March and enjoyed a friendly debate against Berkeley. We hope to organize more of these inter-school debates next term building on the skills, enthusiasm and commitment which so many students have demonstrated this year.

K. Purdie

Today's geography is more than simply learning the names of capital cities, mountain ranges and rivers. Students look at many aspects of physical, human and economic geography and they must develop a wide range of skills such as map-making and map interpretation, the first hand collection of data in the field, data analysis and, of course, information technology. Geography at Saltus often extends outside the classroom environment and students are often unleashed upon the outside world! Over the last year for example, 2D studied pedestrian flow and densities in Hamilton, 3E investigated the marine processes of erosion, transportation and deposition along the South Shore, the fourth and fifth years carried out extensive surveys on the nature of the CBD in Hamilton and the Post Graduate Year geographers studied the microclimates in Bermuda and carried out an investigation to see if a road hierarchy exists in Hamilton.

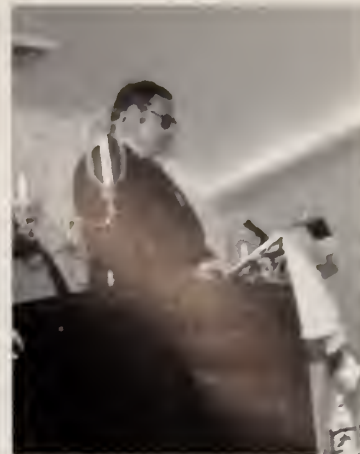

During the Open Day in March students were involved in manning the computerized school weather station, making contour models from maps, simulating river flow and interrogating Bermuda residents about their vacation habits! As you can see, geography is hardly a sedentary subject!

A FEW FINAL MEN

ORIES OF 1992-3

FINAL WORDS...

It is always sad to say goodbye to people that you have worked with for a long time and this year, we lose a major contributor to the yearbook as John Coakley leaves Bermuda to take up a new post on a different island- the Isle of Wight.

John has been responsible for the Junior section of the Saltus yearbook for several years and he has always approached this daunting task with great professionalism and good humour. He has been a very easy colleague to work with and I shall greatly miss his invaluable help in putting together this record of the school year. The rest of this page is dedicated to you, John, and my thanks go to the staff and students of the junior school for laying it out.

Finally I should also like to thank Mrs Bacon and the staff at Cavendish for all their hard work and not forgetting Mrs Boorman in the senior school for her endless patience. Thanks to everyone who contributed in some way to 'GROWING'.

Derek Janes
Editor

John Thomas Coakley arrived in Bermuda just in time to catch Hurricane Emily and for the past six years he has contributed greatly toward the development of Saltus Junior School.

For the first three years, John was an enthusiastic classroom teacher, and an almost fanatical Darrell House supporter.

During the last three years, John has presided over the extensive building program and the introduction of co-education. He transferred classroom enthusiasm to his new role as Headteacher and now that he is leaving he will be greatly missed by Saltus parents, teachers and children alike.

He is a keen sportsman and has participated in the local hockey league and many running events. In 1991, he travelled to New York and successfully completed the New York Marathon.

But John will be perhaps best remembered for that achievement which many Saltus teachers can only dream through a vigorous regime of self denial and dedication — John has reduced his golf handicap at Riddells Bay Golf and Country Club to seven.

Mr. Coakley has been an excellent teacher and Headteacher the past 6 years. He has devoted a part of his life to our school and I think we should be grateful to him. Although I have only known him for the past year, he has been great. He is one Headteacher that cares about each and every one of his students. Each day we learn something from him. Sometimes he does yell, but every time he has a reason for it, and besides we all scream sometimes in our lives.

If I could describe him in one word it would be 'Caring'. He cares about us all.

Goodbye Mr. Coakley.

Meg Spurling.

I remember Mr. Coakley for his sense of humour and his jokes. He was a good teacher and he taught light-heartedly. I remember in our history lesson, he picked on Seamus, Alex and Geoffrey to show us how Adolf Hitler treated the Jews. He taught gym well too. Since I couldn't bowl well in cricket he would bowl for me.

I will always remember Mr. Coakley and I think it's a shame he has to leave.

Last Christmas I invited Mr. Coakley to be my golf partner in the Turkey shoot. We made a side bet after we finished our round. We ended up winning a Turkey, but I ended up owing him sixteen dollars. As a joke, I paid that sixteen dollars all in pennies.

Can't you just tell,
Our man is real swell,
Always kind to me and my buddies
Keen to help us with our studies
Liked by all the Junior School
Everyone knows he's no fool
You'll agree with me, a finer one we'll never see.

Mr. Coakley has been a very loyal, honest headteacher. It's a shame he's going away. We will miss him very much.

He has been my friend since day one in the J4's. He welcomed me to the school very nicely. It was nice knowing you Mr. Coakley and I hope you can be a Headmaster in England because I think the kids will love you.

Mr. Coakley I haven't known you that long, but thank you very much for giving me a chance at Saltus Junior School.

Good luck to a funny, joyful and humorous man.
